

AnnMarie Barone

September 25, 2022

Sunday, September 25, 2022 at age 55. Predeceased by her dad, Moe Bowie. Survived by her loving husband, Joseph; children, Alex and Olivia Barone; mother, MaryLou Bowie; brother, John (Jonelle) Sullivan; aunt, JoAnne Calabro; uncles, Jim Calabro and Larry Bloom; brother John (Jonelle) children, Marylou; grandchildren, Courtney, Jordan, Brittany, Justin and Kylie. AnnMarie's husband Joe's family is his predeceased father, Donald (Dick) Barone; mother, Patricia Barone; sisters, Nancy Powers, Rose (Steve) Crist, Victoria (Dave) Graham; and many nieces, nephews and dear friends. Born July 20th, 1967, it's been known that AnnMarie had a long health fight from the day she was born and lived for many years beyond the expectations of her medical doctors. AnnMarie knew how to take care of her own health and how to heal her body if something would not appear right! She was vigilant to repair her body as best as she knew how. She was fully aware of advocating for herself even after all the many days stay at her recent and final time at Unity Hospital. This young lady battled multiple ONE-IN-A-MILLION rare conditions!! Who does that!! Only a person like AnnMarie that's who! She's a FIGHTER and with all her STRENGTH she FOUGHT to the very end with her health battles.

AnnMarie was called Me-Me from way in the beginning because her brother John couldn't say her name he called her Me-Me and it carried on into high school for most people that knew her! She was a bright light with a beautiful smile that filled the room wherever she was. Along with her golden hair tones, bright blue eyes, and minimal makeup as she was a true natural beauty from within. Her favorite color is blue.

AnnMarie received an Associate of Occupational Studies from Rochester Business Institute for Paraprofessional Accounting in July 1998. She held several accounting positions with corporations like Via Health-Rochester General Medical Group where she met two of Joe's cousins many years before Joe and AnnMarie met themselves together! She also worked for ACM Laboratory, Rochester Drug Cooperative (RDC), Rochester Acoustical Corporation, ARC of Genesee Orleans, ARC of Monroe County, and most recently with the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rochester as an Accounts Receivable Manager. With AnnMarie's outgoing and pleasant personality, she was able to make many work friends wherever she went that she now calls most -her family and many of you are here today!

AnnMarie was introduced to Joe by his cousin in early 2000's. They courted many years and were married in on infinity day of August 08, 2008 (08-08-08). They had a beautiful wedding at their home on Sweden-Walker Rd outdoors. It was a country like setting with a double rainbow that blessed them that day under the handmade arches Joe made. Together they worked to raise two teenagers Alex and Olivia. She loved them unconditionally as if they were her own children. She took genuine care in raising them. They had a farm which included horses for Olivia and even some chickens that one of them was called Chicken-Parm! No lie. Joe and AnnMarie really had a forever love! No denying they were meant to be together through the thick and thin that life throws at you. Joe Barone was deeply in Love with his wife and the same is true for AnnMarie as she professed her Love for Joe.

For AnnMarie family always came first along with her love of her 3 dogs (Shianne, Miles & Rocky) and cat (CoCo). Some of AnnMarie's passed on dogs were Tieka, Princess, Reba & Mae. She really loved her German Shepard breed-her animals were like her kids. They had a part of everything to do with her life outside and inside the house perimeters! AnnMarie also loved camping -they both had a love for the outdoors- which included bonfires, open fire pit meals, and she's known famously for making her special secret recipe of chocolate chip cookies for everyone to enjoy as she brought them to gatherings.

“ AnnMarie was such a wonderful, sweet, loving person. She lived next door to my mom for awhile and helped with my dad who had dementia at times. She also did my mom's hair for her. She so upbeat and pretty and what a beautiful soul she had! We knew she had been battling a lot of medical issues back then, and that she so loved her dogs. RIP AnnMarie. We love ❤️ you.

“ I’m devastated. How do I write about the loss of my amazing sister from another mother. AnnMarie Barone was a beautiful soul and best friend to me. She loves ❤️ unconditionally and I’m heartbroken 💔 to say she’s gone to be with our Lord this past Sunday. She was surrounded by her family and friends as she went peacefully to be with Jesus.

She was a FIGHTER like no other with this disease. This girl battled so many one-in-a-million health issues that came to this pure soul over the past few months. How is it she was overcoming one when then another would bestow to her. She fought it hard with every ounce of her!! She advocated with every breath!

My sister was there for me in so many ways, giving of her time, making her famous chocolate chip cookies, coloring my hair, squeeze hugs like no other and squish Kisses!

My brother Joe Barone was deeply in Love with his wife. 08.08.08 infinity marriage!! This breaks his heart 💔 and he too is beyond devastated by her untimely loss. These two were inseparable no matter what life threw at them! They’re favorite things to do were cooking outside over an open fire pit, ATV rides, camping with their new camper and they could bring their dogs with them. Those dogs were the world to Annmarie!

They together raised beautiful children Alex Barone and Olivia Barone with such strength, faith and wisdom from our own parents legacy and values/morals teachings their grandparents Dick Barone (rip) and Patricia Tremiti Barone and Marylou Bowie & Mo (rip) they all passed down to Joe and AnnMarie.

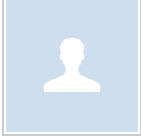

What our family needs is prayers to be strong in the coming weeks. How to carry on. Time to grieve. Celebrate her life! She was a precious soul. I can’t say that enough. She loved all her fur babies present and past. She’s with her father and my dad along with several of her pets and other family members whom passed before her. God Bless you AnnMarie. Until we meet again.

I LOVE YOU Chickie! 🥺❤️💕
