“ Darryl was a good man and a friend with a great talent for playing his guitar. Through the years he and I worked together on his guitar tabs and music downloads of his favorite artists. I am saddened by his passing but he lived a life of music which he deeply enjoyed. Glad to know that he came to know the Lord in his final days and I will always remember him. I'm sure he will be playing his guitar in heaven. Michael Naven

“ Just a few weeks ago recording a quest lead guitar solo for Ross Cirri's song Fugitive, on Ross's soon to be released album "Behind Enemy Lines". When released, it will be available on all major streaming sites, like Spotify, Amazon Music, Youtube and iTunes. Many of Darryl's songs are already on the internet. Check them out.

“ Darryl was an unassuming man, so many may not know that he was also a world class guitarist and recording artist. He released 6 albums and was just about to finish his 7th. He recorded the initial tracks of the last song at our studio just a week before he passed. His friends plan to finish it for him in his absence. Darryl fought his illness harder than anyone I've ever seen and, in the process, he found God, and it was the real deal. He never got angry with God thru his trial. At times he got angry with his situation, but not with God. Quite the opposite, he thanked God often for carrying him thru it. We prayed together every few days. As his body grew weaker, his faith grew stronger. The Bible says that God is a rewarder of the faithful, so now Darryl's home receiving his reward, whatever that looks like.

Darryl had a great passion and talent for guitar, but more than that, he was a good man. I was honored to know him and to be a part of his life and music for over nine years. Over that time, he became a valued friend and brother. He will be missed.

“ Lucretia. I was very saddened when you informed me of Daryl 's. Passing. I will always remember going in the basement to listen to him play the guitar, that we both were musicians we would talk chords regressions. I am fortunate to have three of his CDs. I know he loved his hot tub. Lean on your family and during this time we are all here. With love, your cousin, Dwight (Dickie)
