“ *To the family of Jim O'Reilly,
I am so very sorry for the passing of my dear friend and Hybernian Brother Jim. My sincere condolences for our great loss.
I know he suffered greatly in his struggle with his illness. In my opinion he is in a far better place now, at the foot of his lord and savior. May he Rest In Peace. 🙏
God bless you all, Russ Conlon*

“ Our condolences to Mary, Erin, Bridget, Claire and his extended family.

As Jimmy's cousin, I don't remember our baby years but I definitely remember our adolescent and teenage years. I always looked forward to our family gatherings because that meant Jimmy was gonna be there. Jimmy had a smile that you can never forget no matter how long its been of not seeing him. I know and can see that he grew to be one hell of a husband, father and recently a grandpa. When we chatted, he talked how Daphne touched his heart and now was everything to him. It was great talking with him on social media and bei g able to tell him I love him. God be with you all and Jimmy, it's you're time to rest now.

I love and miss you 🙏🙏🙏

“ *I'll never forget when Jimmy came to see Leah in 'A Christmas Carol' in 2014, and afterwards Mary told me that Jacob Marley scared the s**t out of him when he entered the dark theater and walked right by Jimmy's aisle seat rattling his chains. Mary said he jumped a mile! We all had a good laugh at his expense ;) We will all miss you, your smile and your sense of humor, Jimmy. Rest easy.*
