“ I remember tons of laughter hanging out with Scott during our ridiculous adventures as teens and young men with Scott V. Playing street sports, working out our mechanical improvisations with our cars, attending Catholic carnivals playing over and under, checking out the Atari 800 Star Raider, and discussing life up in Scott's attic. Scott had a contagious laugh and was a true friend. I had the best time of my youth hanging out around Flower City Park and Clay Avenue. The memories are hilarious.

“ Scott and I go way back, 45+ years. He was a good friend. Lots of memories from running around the neighborhood all hours of the day and night, playing football in the parking at Sacred Heart under the lights, many ping pong games at his house up in the attic, basketball in the back yard, 30 years of fantasy football drafts that started in 1990 and ended when covid became a thing. Lots of good times and too many memories to list, you have left us too soon and will be missed my friend. RIP

“ My condolences to Scott's family. I knew and worked with Scott for more than 20 years in the printing industry. Scott was one of my best hires in the bindery at Monroe Repro on East Ave. I also supervised him in the prepress dept at Village Gate where he mastered the Opticopy step and repeat machine. After the company got heavy into computers and digital prepress, Scott became my supervisor. He was always a pleasure to work with and was very low key. I cannot remember him ever losing his cool at work. We grew apart after Scott moved on to Xerox but I will always have great memories like golfing in work leagues, playing splatball, work lunches, company xmas parties, picnics. And he loved Wendy's chili at lunchtime! If there was a Monroe Repro Hall of Fame, Scott would be in it! Bill Katerle

My condolences to the Cotsworth family. This news was hard to hear and unexpected for a lot of of us. I worked with Scott for almost 40 years beginning at Monroe Reprographics where we transitioned from the bindery into pre-press and learned all the new technology together along with a great group of dedicated people. Scott was always great to bounce ideas off of and could retain information that most people couldn't. He was a great partner to work with and made work a better place to be. We transitioned to Xerox together with a whole new learning curve and great group of people there also. Scott was a good friend over all those years to confide in and to share memories. He will be truly missed by many.

I was fortunate to work with Scott for many years at Xerox. He was the ultimate team member! Scott had a broad range of knowledge in the printing industry and was always willing to share it. Scott was the "go to" guy for many of us throughout the years. He was always there to solve a problem or help with a task. Our thoughts and prayers are with the Cotsworth family. Scott will be sadly missed.
