“ Mom I have been so lucky to have had you in my home with me for the past two years. I'll never forget nights like the one you, Traci, and I spent an hour making our own music video for the Coconut song by Harry Nilsson- or when you went rolling in your wheelchair, pretending to smoke, holding your juice, tapping your foot and nodding your head to Snoop Dog - Gin & Juice. Spending a rainy weekend in Cooperstown with your kids and your grandson Cory. Cheering you on when you shot your ping pong ball from the couch and landed directly in the cup - like a true baddie. You are the greatest woman I've ever met and you taught me to be a Strong Independent Woman.

I have a million memories with you, and I'll always cherish them. I will never forget all the lessons you taught me, tough love or otherwise. We know you're with us and we see you in everything, all the time. Don't stop visiting, and we won't stop looking for ya. Have a good rest, Mom. I love you half past a chicken's ass and a quarter to the moon.
