“ I cut Toms hair for the last few years. My favorite memory was the first time he came to the new salon I work at and he was not expecting to walk in to a girly and pink everything salon and the reaction was priceless. There was never an appointment that we weren't laughing and making jokes. I'll miss all the jokes and laughter and the home made pizzelles he brought me every Christmas. He brought light to dark times. My condolences to the family

“ I am very saddened to hear about Tommy . I remember shooting pat at chili and I eagled the last hole and Tommy was on the green and started yelling “ it went in the hole “ and started dancing as I was laughing in the fairway and it was with Tommy that I won $2500 in the lilac city tournament before . Tom could always bust me up , he will be and is deeply missed . I remember golfing with PK and Tommy in 100 degree heat at Livingston country club , miss them both

“ Back in April of 2021 when the NFL Draft was being hosted in Cleveland I had my bachelor party at the same time focused around that event. Tom being the most dedicated Browns fan ever was able to get my best friend and myself tickets to day 3 of the event inside the venue. I will never forget the amazing conversations about Football, gardening, and grilling out on the Webber.
Thank you for everything Tom

“ Tom always knew how to make people laugh, and I’ll never forget the day he got me with one of his jokes. As a die-hard Browns fan and season ticket holder, he loved talking football—especially giving me a hard time as a Steelers fan.

One day he asked if he’d told me what happened at a Browns game. He said he stopped at 7-11 on the way, left his tickets on the passenger seat, and when he came back his window was smashed. I remember thinking, “man, that’s awful”... then he hit me with the punchline—there were two more Browns tickets sitting on the seat. He had me completely, and I laughed so hard.

I’ve told that joke to so many people since, and every time I do, I think of Tom. That’s the kind of person he was—someone who left you smiling. He’ll be deeply missed.

“ Tom was a good friend to so many of us. With heavy hearts, we remember the laughter, the stories, and the countless good times we shared with him. He had a way of bringing people together and filling a room with camaraderie and warmth. May we carry that spirit forward—holding onto those memories and sharing the same kindness and friendship he gave so freely.

“ Going to miss The Mann dearly. RIP to a great guy that invested in me and taught me many life lessons - everything happens for a reason and to slow down/enjoy life. Into the now shows and disc golf won't be the same without you brother!

So sorry for your loss! I'm glad I got to see Tom, at spencer Speedway this summer, he was with John Strong. and he came up to me laughing, (like he always did) and told me a bunch of jokes he had acquired since the last time I had talked to him. Every time he heard a good joke, he would always find me, and say, I thought of you as soon as I heard this one, since we both have the same sense of humor! I will miss you Mann!!!!!!!!!!!!!! RIP. brother.
